

LYNN TAYLOR

Award Winning Residential Designer | Speaker

A leading voice on HISTORIC DESIGN AND PRESERVATION

Lynn Taylor is a residential designer with three decades of experience and a dynamic and engaging personality. When it comes to historic design, preservation and energy efficiency — Lynn's practical and straightforward approach has helped countless homeowners and municipalities on how best to incorporate modern design elements while maintaining historic integrity.

TOPICS FOR CONSIDERATION

- How Appropriate Infill Enhances Historic Neighborhoods
- Designing and Building Sensitive Additions to Historic Homes
- How to Be Green and Save Energy While Maintaining Your Historic Home
- Affordable, Green, Energy-Efficient - Building Products and Methods for Historic Homes

"...a rare combination of deep, friendly knowledge communicated with true folksy wit..."

Availability/Booking Contact: info@taylormadeplans.com 615.650.8956

SPEAKING HIGHLIGHTS

How Appropriate Infill Enhances Historic Neighborhoods (designated or not!); Norman and Oklahoma City, OK, Sept. 12th -13th, 2013

Designing Sensitive Additions to Historic Homes; Norman and Oklahoma City, OK, Sept. 12th -13th, 2013

Building New Homes in Historic Neighborhoods Understanding Historic Design Requirements: WEBINAR - BuilderLink, April 2012

Moving on Up: Attic Renovation Creating a dynamic space for all your family's needs. WEBINAR, March 2012

Filling in the Vacant Space: Successful Infill Construction (Round table): National Preservation Conference, Nashville, TN, October 2009

Organized Two Old House Renovation Workshops series: East Library Speaker Series, Nashville, TN, in February, 2009 and June, 2005

Creating a Variety of Housing Choices presentation: Leadership Middle Tennessee event, Columbia, TN, March, 2009 with Bridget Jones

CONNECT WITH US

www.taylormadeplans.com

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

"Lynn Taylor possesses a rare combination of deep, friendly knowledge communicated with true folksy wit. A skilled residential designer with hands-on knowledge of rehab as well as ground-up construction, Lynn knows how to translate the important aspects of design in historic neighborhoods into language that is understood by tradesmen and property owners alike. She has first-hand experience in the power of compatible new construction and sensitive additions to historic structures to successfully revitalize entire zip codes!"

— Susan Owen Atkinson, AICP

Former Community Planner/Historic Preservation Officer for City of Norman

"Lynn's has a down-to-earth communication style and her points are clear and well-illustrated by photographs and research. What makes her presentations exceptional are the many insider tips she includes that come from being an expert in her field."

— Ginny Schutz, Lockeland Springs Resident

"Lynn's speeches are interesting, accessible and practical. Lynn also recruited and organized home renovation specialists to give talks on wooden window repairs, heating and air conditioning systems for older homes, and plumbing issues during home renovation. The lecture series was well-attended and well-received. I enjoyed working with Lynn on the successful "Home Renovation" lecture series and I highly recommend Lynn as a speaker."

— Cynthia Cass, Past President, Friends of the East Branch Library

Availability/Booking Contact: info@taylormadeplans.com 615.650.8956